UNIONS FIGHT RAIL BILL FOR PLUMB PLAN

Backers Say Measure Will Be Passed.

(By A Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—[Special.]—With its backers declaring confidence that the compromise railroad bill will be adopted by the house of representatives tomorrow, organized labor rebuffed its efforts to bring about defeat of the measure.

It was considered extremely probable that the bill will pass both houses in spite of the terrific fight being made against it.

Position of the Unions.

Organized labor is fighting the measure for two salient reasons. Primarily, the spirit of the labor movement believes that the spirit of the measure is to strip the worker and in favor of the vested interests. The other reason is that union labor is generally opposed to private ownership of the railroads.

Although the forces of trade unionism won their battles against the anti-strike provision and the clauses in the bill relating to the right of the railroads to strike, they are still opposed to the measure now with these obvious reasons eliminated because, they declare, it will be possible under the bill to send to jail union officials who refuse to submit grievances to arbitration boards.

Awake at Eleventh Hour.

The labor leaders have awakened at the eleventh hour to this alleged possibility, and they are calling on congress to fight just as vigorously as they insisted upon when the anti-strike provisions were being considered.

Some of them say they regard the bill as it stands as even worse than the original measure, because, they argue, were there a clause in the proposed law that would make it necessary to allow hearings on the merits of the bill before the bill is passed, they would have been able to strike in future and to strike at some time in the distant future, if necessary, to force the bill to be passed.

As a Layman Views It.

From the standpoint of a layman the fight that the labor has been making against the bill has been making, first, a point that the bill has been made in the hope of the government ownership is a mistake, and, falling in that, to make it as easy as possible for organized labor to strike in future and to strike at some time in the distant future, if necessary, to force the bill to be passed.

The railroad brotherhoods are committed to government control of the railroads, and their divorce from the "vested interests" as they describe them, is the joint interest of the government, the public, and the workers. This scheme is being agitated by the Plumb-Plan league, to which all the railroad brotherhoods and a great number of their members belong.

Part of a Broader Plan.

All the leaders of organized labor are committed to this league, and the American Federation of Labor as such has committed itself to this particular league, though officials of a great number of unions affiliated with the American federation are allied with the league.

At the agitation that is now going on in congress over the railroad bill is being agitated directly, of course, on the question of government ownership, but indirectly it is a part of the broad plan which the labor leaders have put themselves in the interest of against private ownership.

Fight to Go On Anyhow.

Although the bill by congress will carry a moment's hesitation in the minds of the unions to keep the fight going, as when the bill becomes law everything tonight points toward the passage of the bill by the house of representatives. The machinery of the unions is being set in motion to carry the battle to the courts. It will be waged in every congressional district.

The Plumb-Plan league has been collecting money for many months, and is now bringing this fund up to date. It is a part of the broad plan which the labor leaders have put themselves in the interest of against private ownership.

It is not known, but it is

$25,000 FRAUD 'TIP' STIRS U. S. AGENTS TO HUNT

Byfield Jeers Rumor He Was Victimized.

Government agents appealed to the ouija board and the spirits yesterday to help solve the latest $25,000 mystery.

Heads of the internal revenue department were summoned to secret council when a deputy collector turned in a tip that a substantial Chicago business man formerly identified with the liquor trade had permitted himself to be mulcted of $25,000 cold dollars last Monday or Tuesday by three swindlers representing themselves as government agents.

The amount of the alleged swindle was in itself sufficient to create a future in official circles, but when the deputy further reported that the leader of the trio had posed as George K. Murdock, special revenue investigator assigned from Washington to "clean up" the local revenue department and booze and income tax investigations, the federal sleuths swore immediate vengeance on the fakers.

"Tip" Names Byfield.

Two of the three revenue heads who ordered as many separate probes of the unofficial report five minutes after it reached them, declared that their "tip" had Joseph Byfield, president of the Hotel Sherman company, the victim of the fake trio. They pointed out that it has been generally known that Mr. Byfield was left with a "white elephant" liquor stock July 1. Investigations of various tips about Mr. Byfield's whiskey have resulted in clean bills of health for him. Like other business men dealing in big liquor shipments, his transfers from stockroom to warehouse have been covered by legitimate federal permits.

Murdock Misses the $25,000.

"But $25,000" sighed the real George Murdock. "I am certain of just one thing. I did not get it. The idea of some one making a mistake as big as that much money all at once does give me a thrill, but it will not hinder our running down the swindlers."

"By the way, if such an amount did pass hands—and I have no real evidence as to that it did—why should any one hand it over to government agents, bogus or otherwise?"

"Why?" echoed Harry Mager, internal revenue collector of the district. "It was then that Uncle Sam's experts began paging the ouija."

"All that can be said now," continued Mr. Murdock after a conference with brother prosecutors, "is that the fakers are going to be caught and that we intend to win enough prison sentences to make schemers respect Uncle Sam's authority."

Mr. Byfield Laughs.

"O, what a lot of money!" exclaimed Joseph Byfield when he was questioned concerning the report. "When they dream they don't care how much it costs, do they?"

"The idea of any one shaking me down for the amount or any other amount is absurd," he continued. "I haven't paid a cent to any government man or bogus government man and no money has been extorted from me. Of course the government men will have to run down the rumor, but they have not yet come to me with their puzzle."

Barnett Surrenders.

Developments in the real federal liquor inquiries yesterday included the surrender of Jesse Barnett, former deputy revenue collector charged with issuing illegal permits for the transfer of Grommes & Ulrich whiskey to be sold by attorney Anthony Polczynski, and the release from custody of the big liquor firm's stock by Maj. A. V. Dairymple.

Maj. Dairymple announced that examination of the Grommes & Ulrich books show that the firm has been operating in good faith and that they sold the 446 cases involved in the first investigation under permit.

History of Institute.

The Armour Institute of Technology was founded by P. D. Armour in 1892. Its purposes were outlined as follows at the time of its foundation: "This institution is founded for the purpose of giving to young men an opportunity to obtain a liberal education. It is hoped that its benefits may reach all classes. It is intended for the poor or the rich as sections of society, but for any and all who are earnestly seeking technical education."

Under the enlarged plans the institute will take rank among the greatest in the country.

INSTITUTE TO BUY WINDSOR GOLF GROUNDS

New Buildings Will Cost $5,000,000.

Complete details for the new Armour institute to be built at Seventy-fifth street and Yates avenue, which will be announced today, contemplate the expenditure of millions, and will link the Chicago of today with the Chicago of the past.

The land on which the new educational plant will be built was the property of "Long John" Wentworth, mayor of the city at the time of the great fire in 1871.

Until recently the property, which is an unbroken tract of eighty acres, was held by a daughter, but a year or so ago the land was sold to Charles Ringer, real estate dealer.

Armour Backs Plan.

Some time ago Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, realizing the Armour institute had long ago outgrown its present site at Thirty-first and Federal streets, conceived the idea of building a great institution away from the crowded districts.

He approached J. Ogden Armour upon the subject and met instant response. Mr. Armour agreed to put up $1,000,000, the price Dr. Gunsaulus had learned was placed upon the Westworth tract. Mr. Armour further said he would give $5,000,000 to erect the new buildings.

So the great project was launched.

Lot Sale Called Off.

It had been Mr. Ringer's plan, when he acquired the tract, to cut it up into lots. It has been used as the site of the Windsor Park golf club. Some of the lots had been sold, but it is understood that when negotiations with Mr. Gunsaulus were opened these lot deals were called off.

Richard Van Dusen, 7645 Coles avenue, one of the purchasers, told the body of her son, a marine, who had been killed in action, to find that she did not have sufficient funds to meet a New York undertaker's demand for transfer of the body from the pier in Brooklyn to the Pennsylvania station. The undertaker wanted $45.

Mrs. De Vere had just enough money to get back to Chicago and was without friends in this city. But she called up the Knights of Columbus hut in Times square and told her predicament.

"He was the only undertaker out of many whom I asked who was willing to transfer my son's body at all," she said.

M. S. Hogan, the supervisor at the hut, arranged to have the body transferred, and the Knights of Columbus saw that an American flag was placed on the casket.

But Mrs. De Vere became so unstrung as a result of her experience that she was unable to leave for Chicago tonight and through the courtesy of the Knights of Columbus she remained at the Pennsylvania hotel and will leave for her home in Chicago tomorrow.

PREPARES FOR FUNERAL.

James T. De Vere, 1517 Taylor avenue, who received word from New York last night of his wife's arrival from France, said his son would be buried here with military honors within a few days. The body will be interred at Mount Carmel.

PEACE DIMS HER WAR ROMANCE; ASKS DIVORCE

Given a pretty American girl doing

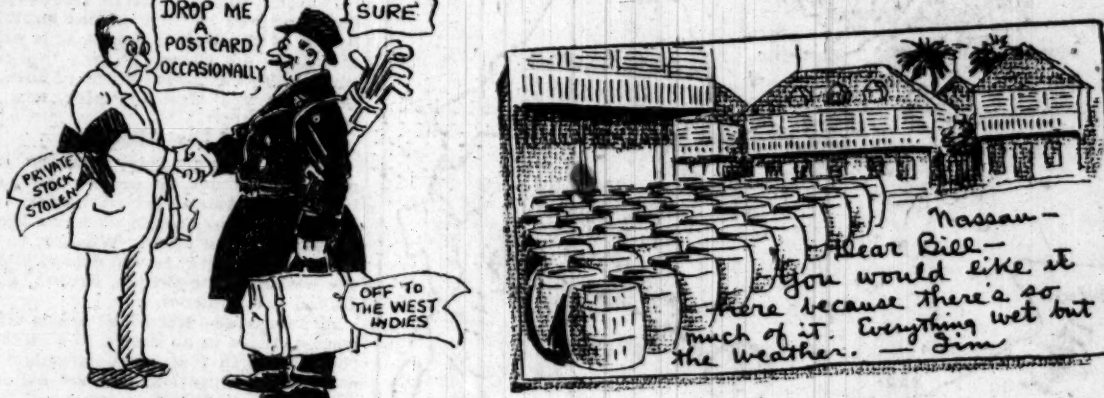

coast work in France, a trim young officer encounters at the front, and the inevitable happens. So went the romance of Helen Weinberg and Frank Knapp. The friendship developed rapidly while in France, and in April, 1919, they chanced to meet again in London, on leave, and were married in Bloomsbury park. Both went back to war. Then peace and the romance began to fade.

Mrs. Knapp filed a bill for divorce yesterday against her husband, charging that he wandered a number of times from the path of fidelity with Mary Doe in London and Mary Roe in Washington.

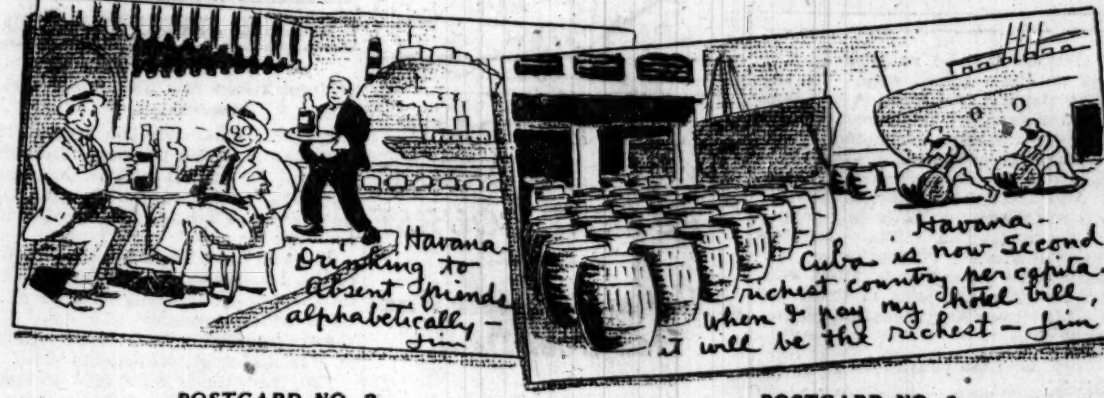

Attorney W. N. MacChesney, representing Mrs. Knapp, said he knew very little about his client's husband except that he was in Washington, D. C., at present and that he lived on Long Island.

CHICAGO HOME TO BOY IT NEVER SAW

Lad Left 10 Years Ago in Belgium Coming Back.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[By Special Cable.]

[Copyright, 1920, By the Tribune Company.]

PARIS, Feb. 20.—Another young American is returning home. He has an American passport, but no memory of America and no knowledge of the American language.

Ten year old Joseph Merckx was just 22 months old when his mother took him from his home at St. Charles, Ill., and left him with an aunt in Belgium. Joseph's father is Cornelius Merckx, janitor of an apartment building at 645-647 Buena avenue, Chicago, where he has been a naturalized American citizen since 1914.

Mrs. Lester McCullough, whose apartment is in the same building, is taking the janitor's son back to America.

In Joe's Town.

Three days ago Mrs. McCullough drew up in an automobile in the village of Meerdonk in the district of Waas, near the northern frontier of Belgium. The population of seventy-five of the village turned out to greet the young stylishly groomed American woman and to learn her mission to the village. The object of the visit was a shock headed smiling boy in wooden shoes and corduroy pants to the ankle. It was Joseph.

Mrs. McCullough greeted this transplanted young American in English, but received only a boyish grin in reply. Three hours later Joseph with washed face, plastered hair and a bundle of spare clothing sat beside the American woman in the motor as it departed from the muddy little village amidst the cries and tears of some happy, some sad villagers.

Joseph speaks only Flemish, no English or French. Neither Mrs. McCullough nor any one in their hotel here can converse with him.

FAMILY HERE OVERJOYED.

Joseph's father was found last night at 645 Buena avenue, where his wife, Mrs. Louise Merckx, and their daughter Caroline, 9 years old, wept when told that the boy was at last on his way home. The three were overcome with joy and told of a flight of five years to bring him back.

"We came to this country from Belgium eleven years ago today," said Cor-

Map Showing Proposed $110,000,000 Lake Shore Development for Which U. S. Issued Permit Yesterday.

The Lake Is Won

At last the electrification of the Illinois Central and the $110,000,000 lake shore improvement are assured. Secretary of War Baker signed the governmental permit for the huge project yesterday. All that is now necessary is the voters' endorsement of the $8,000,000 bond issue for the first three years of the work, up to the voters at the election next Tuesday.

NEW YORK G. O. P. FOR REMODELED TREATY AT ONCE

Wants Reservations; Ignores Training.

New York, Feb. 20.—Immediate ratification of the treaty of peace with the senate reservations retaining for the United States its right to withdraw from the league of nations on proper notice, a declaration against article X in its present form, and demanding protection for the Monroe doctrine "in letter and spirit" were advocated in the platform adopted here today by the New York state Republican convention.

SWISS, FRANCE, AND BRITAIN IN AERIAL COMPACT

BERNE, Feb. 20.—Switzerland has signed a provisional convention with France and Great Britain dealing with air traffic which comes into force March 1.

CHECK UP CENSUS GUESSES! FIRST FIGURES TODAY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—[Special.]—The first figures of the census of 1920 will be made known tomorrow when the population of Cincinnati, O., and Washington, D. C., will be announced. It is expected that the cities of over 25,000 inhabitants as rapidly as the returns can be completed.

Auckland Geddes Stated for Ambassador to U. S.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The Earl of Reading has definitely declined the ambassadorship to Washington, and the post has been offered to Sir Auckland Geddes, minister of national service and reconstruction, who has not accepted, according to the Daily Mail. It is believed by the newspaper that he will accept.

Marriages in France Breaking All Records

PARIS, Feb. 20.—From many towns in France continue to come record breaking reports of the number of marriages. In the little town of Abbeville, which has less than 25,000 inhabitants, twelve weddings were celebrated last Saturday. Toulouse had thirty-four marriages the same day.

FIRST ROUND IN FINISH FIGHT TO ARMY DRILL

House Military Body for Provision.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—[Special.]—Advocates of universal military training won a victory in the house committee on military affairs today. The committee, by a vote of 11 to 9, directed a subcommittee to incorporate in the pending army reorganization bill a provision establishing a policy for the compulsory training of boys of 19, with the proviso that the training shall not begin until July 1, 1922. This means that no appropriation would be necessary either this year or in 1921. The committee debated the proposition for three hours. By postponing the date when the stem of training shall become effective, sponsors of the system believe they will overcome the objections of those who believe that the expense makes any action inadvisable at this time.

How the Committee Voted. Those who voted favorably on the bill were Kahn of California, Green of Vermont, Sanford of New York, Morin of Pennsylvania, James of Michigan, Miller of Washington, and Fuller of Massachusetts, Republicans; Caldwell of Kansas, Republican; Dent of Alabama, Fields of Kentucky, Quinn of Mississippi, Wise of Georgia, and Harrison of Virginia.

Fuller Turns the Trick. Representative Fuller of Massachusetts was given credit for turning the trick in the committee. He had been expected to show the lineup of the committee Mr. Fuller had been counted against universal training.

It was regarded as significant that Mr. Fuller has announced himself as a candidate for delegate to the Republican national convention and as a supporter of the candidacy of Gen. Leonard Wood for the presidential nomination. A vote also was taken on the question of including in the bill a provision that the details of the training system should be worked out by a commission composed of three representatives, three senators, and three army officers appointed by the president. Representative Kahn favored this proposal, but Representatives Caldwell, Sanford, and James opposed it. This motion was defeated by a vote of 12 to 8.

May Draft Training System. Regardless of this adverse vote it was stated that the subcommittee might incorporate something of the sort in a tentative draft to be submitted to the full committee. The subcommittee is composed of Representative Kahn, Greene, and Caldwell, who favored universal training, and Representatives Anthony, McKenzie, Dent, and Fields, who were against it.

In view of the instructions from the full committee the personnel of the subcommittee is expected to have no particular significance. It is a standing subcommittee on army organization and appropriations. Representative Kahn was highly pleased by the action and said he would carry the fight to the floor.

With the committee decision as to universal training out of the way, the substance of the army reorganization bill practically was completed. The next question awaiting settlement is the future of the national guard, which committee members said soon would be disposed of.

FRENCH-BRITISH DIVISION OVER RUSSIAN PEACE

Breach in Council as Reds Enter Archangel.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] [By Special Cable.] [Copyright 1920, by the Tribune Company.] LONDON, Feb. 19.—The peace conference this morning was devoted to a preliminary interchange of views on the Russian question and an acute difference is said to have developed between the British and the French. Lloyd George, it is said, is anxious to make peace with bolshevik Russia and to resume trade, relying on the reopening of relations with the world to render Russia safer and more conservative, while the French are still desirous of crushing bolshevism—if not by direct intervention, at least by support of counter revolutionary forces in Russia.

It is stated that the British agent in Helsinki has transmitted assurances from the Russian leaders that Russia will pay all of its old trade debts in gold, will abstain from propaganda, and will relax the severity of its treatment of adherents of the old regime if the soviet government is recognized by the allies.

REDS TAKE ARCHANGEL

LONDON, Feb. 20.—[By the Associated Press.]—Bolshevik forces have captured Archangel, on the White Sea, according to a wireless dispatch from Moscow today. The "Whites" abandoned the town and the troops joined the bolsheviks, the message declares. The last advice to the British war office on the north Russian situation was that on Feb. 18 the Red forces were seventy miles south of Archangel, which town was held by British and American forces before their withdrawal.

Bolshevik possession of the city would mean a material weakening of the Divina line.

Not Committed to Poland's Aid. LONDON, Feb. 20.—Great Britain is not committed in any way to come to the support of Poland with men, money, and munitions if parts of Russia such as Dvinsk, now occupied by Polish armies, are attacked by the bolsheviks, Premier Lloyd George declared in the house of commons today in answer to a question.

The Lithuanian government has decided to open peace negotiations with the Russian bolsheviks in conclusion, if possible, with Finland, Poland, and Lithuania, according to a statement issued at the Lithuanian legation here. Invitations have been extended to a conference, which will be held soon, it is said.

Germany "Feeling" for Peace. A diplomatic dispatch from Berlin today states that "undoubtedly" the forthcoming negotiations regarding prisoners between Germany and Soviet Russia will develop into peace negotiations.

A dispatch from Paris says Eric, Gen. Joseph Plaudski, Polish chief of state, is preparing a plan to be submitted shortly to the allies for making peace with Russia, according to a Warsaw dispatch to the Matin. Gen. Plaudski is quoted as saying he had no fear of bolshevik propaganda, that Poland is "immune" to such efforts.

PROSECUTION IN NEWBERRY TRIAL NEEDS WEEK MORE

Both Sides Score in Day of Rapid Action.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 20.—At the end of another rapid action scene in the Newberry election's drama today, Frank C. Dailey said he hoped to finish the government's case by a week from tomorrow.

The afternoon proceedings ranged from a remark about "nice money" credited to George John M. Clements by Albert E. Stevenson, former Democratic state chairman, to what Gladstone Beattie of Paw Paw said to Gen. Duff, village constable, of Hartford, Van Buren county, Duff said Beattie promised to "make it right" and later mailed him $10.

Two witnesses swore Beattie told them he got enough from the Newberry committee to pay all the expenses of his own private campaign for county clerk as well as what the Newberry Beattie was saying "the Newberry committee thought his bill expensive."

Took a Little for Himself. There was further testimony this afternoon concerning Charles R. Carpenter, a Grand Rapids Rapid defendant. Yesterday a witness said that he failed to get some campaign money which Carpenter promised him, but today's witnesses told an opposite story. One said Carpenter promised him additional pay for getting signatures to Newberry petitions. The other said Carpenter came back after the primary with $5 more. A Grand Rapids constable followed this by relating that while he was waiting to board a street car Carpenter asked him to work for Newberry and gave him $5 as the car bore the other way.

"I never saw him again during the campaign and I never did for Newberry either," said the constable.

Defense Scores Twice. The defense scored when John De Young of Grand Rapids was on the stand. He was expected to follow a signed statement which he gave a government investigator and swear that George Welsh gave him $20 for distributing campaign literature. De Young, however, said the statement was incorrect, that Welsh only promised him the money. Pressed a bit, he said he had told the grand jury the statement was not right and also asked that it be changed when it was read to him yesterday.

Another blow to the prosecution came from Walter E. Thayer of Detroit, who said that Milton Oakman, a Republican leader there, asked him to work for Newberry and about two months later gave him $100. The cross examination led Thayer to say that it was a contribution to his personal campaign for alderman and Judge Sessions thereupon ruled out reference to the check.

Invade "Pet" Territory. The government had its trainings a bit later when Pearl Wynne, formerly of Flint, was telling about the work he did for Newberry in the Second ward of that city at the behest of Fred Henry. PEARY SAILS ON FINAL DASH TO UNCHARTED SEAS Pole Discoverer Dies; 35 Give Blood in Vain.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, retired, discoverer of the north pole, died at his home here today after a two years' illness of pernicious anemia, during which thirty-five blood transfusions had been of no avail. Sailors, attaches of the naval hospital, and many ex-service men gave of their life's blood during that period in the vain effort to prolong the life of the country's foremost explorer.

It had been known to the explorer's family for weeks, but kept from the public, that his life was in danger, but no one thought the end so near, and his sudden death was unexpected. He will be buried Monday morning in Arlington National cemetery with the full naval honors of his rank.

An appreciation of Admiral Peary was voiced by Gilbert H. Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic society, today.

Daniels Consoles Widow.

Tribute to the achievements of Admiral Peary was paid by Secretary Daniels today in the following message of sympathy to Mrs. Peary:

"Voicing the sentiments of the whole navy, I desire to express deep sympathy in your bereavement. If any earthly comfort can help you in this hour it must be the assurance that the whole country sorrows with you and that all over the world there will be profound regret at the death of your distinguished husband."

At the admiral's bedside when he died were his wife, Mrs. Josephine Dieblich Peary, his son, Robert; his daughter, Mrs. Marie A. Stafford, and her husband, Edward Stafford, and a niece, Miss Madge Dieblich.

BORN IN CRESSON, PA.

Admiral Peary was born at Cresson, Pa., May 6, 1856, but in his early youth the family removed to Maine, where he received his education. His parents were Charles N. and Mary (Wiley) Peary.

Instructed first in private schools, he subsequently entered Bowdoin college, from which he was graduated with the class of 1877.

As a means of livelihood he adopted the profession of civil engineer, entering the United States navy in that capacity on Oct. 20, 1878. Three years later he was appointed an assistant engineer on the board which surveyed the route of the Nicaragua ship canal.

Returning to the United States, he became interested in Arctic exploration, and thirty-four years ago he made his first trip to the north, making a reconnaissance of the Greenland inland ice cape east of Disco bay.

Reached Pole; Exposed Cook.

Admiral Peary made seven expeditions into the Arctic before he finally was successful in reaching the pole on April 6, 1909, returning in the fall to find that Dr. Frederick A. Cook was being praised as the discoverer.

In 1913 he was promoted to the rank of rear admiral in the navy and given the thanks of congress by a special act. Admiral Peary was president of the Xerxes League of America and for several years had been a member of the board of governors of the Aero Club of America.

He was an honorary member of the Philadelphia Geographic society, American Alpine club, National Geographic society, American Museum of Natural History, New York Chamber of Commerce, and all the principal American and foreign topographic societies.

New York Friends Mourn Peary.

New York, Feb. 20.—[Special.]—The death of Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the north pole, occasioned the keenest sorrow among his wide circle of friends here, which included some of the foremost explorers of this generation.

The Explorers' club, which will attend the funeral, sent the following telegram to Mrs. Peary at her home in Washington:

"The Explorers' club offer you their sympathy in your irreparable loss. We mourn Admiral Peary as our friend, as our president, and as the greatest of all explorers."

"On behalf of the board of directors,"

VILHJALMUR STEFANSSON, "President."

Cols. Sanborn and Allen Decorated with D. S. C.

Cols. Joseph B. Sanborn and Henry A. Allen were decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood yesterday. Col. Sanborn led the 131st Infantry and Allen the 108th engineers through many battles in France. These regiments were formerly the 1st Infantry and the 1st engineers of the Illinois National Guard. The presentation was made in the central department headquarters. Both colonels have received other medals in reward for their services.

2 CHICAGOANS ON STAND AT TRIAL OF SOCIALISTS

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20.—Counsel for the assembly judiciary committee trying the five suspended Socialist assemblymen on charges of disloyalty today bombarded with questions Otto Branstetter of Chicago, national secretary of the Socialist party, in an unsuccessful attempt to obtain admission of the party contemplated use of the general strike to capture from the majority control of the United States government.

Branstetter admitted, however, that a general strike tying up the country and paralyzing industry might be an "advantageous" weapon against capitalist minority seeking to regain political power after it had been secured by the Socialist party through constitutional methods.

He was followed on the stand by Julius Gerber, executive secretary of the New York county Socialist organization, and Seymour Stedman, a defense attorney.

Another Bill in Congress to Relieve Ill Presidents

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—Another presidential disability proposal went into the congressional hopper today when Representative MacArthur, Republican, Oregon, introduced a bill proposing that thirty consecutive days' absence from continental United States or disabling illness for a like period on the part of a president would cause the vice president to assume the duties of the office. The measure would become effective March 4, 1921.

In 1913 he was promoted to the rank of rear admiral in the navy and given the thanks of congress by a special act.

Admiral Peary was president of the Xerxes League of America and for several years had been a member of the board of governors of the Aero Club of America.

He was an honorary member of the Philadelphia Geographic society, American Alpine club, National Geographic society, American Museum of Natural History, New York Chamber of Commerce, and all the principal American and foreign topographic societies.

New York Friends Mourn Peary.

New York, Feb. 20.—[Special.]—The death of Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the north pole, occasioned the keenest sorrow among his wide circle of friends here, which included some of the foremost explorers of this generation.

The Explorers' club, which will attend the funeral, sent the following telegram to Mrs. Peary at her home in Washington:

"The Explorers' club offer you their sympathy in your irreparable loss. We mourn Admiral Peary as our friend, as our president, and as the greatest of all explorers."

"On behalf of the board of directors,"

VILHJALMUR STEFANSSON, "President."

Cols. Sanborn and Allen Decorated with D. S. C.

Cols. Joseph B. Sanborn and Henry A. Allen were decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood yesterday. Col. Sanborn led the 131st Infantry and Allen the 108th engineers through many battles in France. These regiments were formerly the 1st Infantry and the 1st engineers of the Illinois National Guard. The presentation was made in the central department headquarters. Both colonels have received other medals in reward for their services.

101 BISHOPS SIGN PLEA TO CHECK CLASS CONFLICT

Catholics Issue First Pastoral Since 1885.

By the Rev. F. L. Gratiot.

Declaring that American institutions are the "hope of humanity," the 101 bishops of the Roman Catholic church have issued a pastoral letter—the first since 1885—which will be read in all the Roman Catholic churches tomorrow morning. Cardinal Gibbons is the only one still alive who signed the previous pastoral.

The pastoral states that the present "unrest and agitation" and "conflict of class with class which threatens to undo the splendid things which the union of our people accomplished can only be settled by a return to the Christian principles of charity and justice and by the free cooperation of the people."

Considers Labor and Capital.

The pastoral urges that the right of labor to a living wage be acknowledged, as well as the right of capital to a fair day's work for a fair day's pay. It says that good will is as necessary in gaining this as justice, and advises that animosity and mistrust should be cleared away and that the parties meet in a friendly rather than a hostile spirit. It refutes the supposition that class is naturally hostile to class, saying that capital cannot do without labor nor labor without capital. The issues are not purely economic, but are at bottom moral and religious.

"We are confident that the good sense of our people will find a way out of the present situation," reads the pastoral. "As the confusion occasioned by the war subsides calmer judgment will prevail. Men will see that internal peace and the cooperation of all classes must be secured if our country is to enjoy prosperity at home and respect abroad. America's great opportunity must not be sacrificed to selfish aims of partisan interests. We made war upon greed and selfish ambition. We shall not let them triumph within our own borders."

Defends the Home.

The home is the foundation of society, declares the pastoral, and as such must be safeguarded by a proper attitude toward marriage. It calls divorce a national scandal, and states that the church will not sanction it.

Women are called upon to exercise moderation in dress and other forms of display and to help curb the "extravagance and craze for pleasure," especially in the face of the crisis through which our country is passing.

"Social enjoyment must remain within reasonable limits," it says. "When it interferes with the duties of home it defeats its own purpose. When it becomes extravagant and develops a craving for pleasure it is likely to pervert the whole meaning of life. A people that lives on excitement and sensation will soon lose its moral fiber. The power of endurance is exactly in proportion to the power of self-restraint."

"In this matter we appeal with all possible earnestness to Catholic women."

Boy Who Went to Belgium as Infant on Way Home After Years.

JOSEPH MERCKX.

Nine year old Joseph Merckx hasn't seen his father since he was 6 months old, having been taken to Belgium at that age. But he's on his way back now to his home, which is at 645 Buena Vista, where Cornelius Merckx is janitor. Efforts to bring him back have been thwarted for years by the war.

en. We urge them, especially to counteract with the force of example those tendencies to excess whereby the prescriptions of plain decency and even the slightest restraints of convention too often are disregarded.

"Fondness of display leads to lavish expenditure, arouses the envy of the less fortunate classes, spurs them to foolish imitation, and eventually brings about conflict between rich and poor."

EXPLOSIONS PERIL FIREMEN.

The lives of dozens of the Third and Thirty-fifth engine companies were imperiled yesterday afternoon by several small explosions in the Olsen Brothers' Siro company plant, 1561 West Division street, when they started by spontaneous combustion in the paint room of the company. No one was injured.

TEXAS ASSAULTS UNION.

Representatives Blanton, Texas, and Huddleston, Alabama, Democrats, clashed on the floor of the house, the latter denouncing organized labor, the latter coming to its defense.

"Last night was the first time I ever heard of a Gompers caucus held in the house office building," said Representative Blanton. "The railway employees have repeatedly held up the government. They held up McAdoo for $754,000,000, telling him that if he did not pay that in cash they would tie up the roads. He gave it to them. Then with threats of highwaymen they told Hines that if he did not give up $67,000,000 it would mean death to the nation. He gave it."

Representative Huddleston declared that the railroad conference report is the result of "an unholy union" and that the bill had been "born out of time."

Representative Rayburn of Texas, Democrat, favored the bill.

THOM DENIES GOMPERS' CHARGE.

Alfred P. Thom, general counsel of the Association of Railway Executives, issued a flat denial today of the statement made by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor last night at a meeting with house members, that Mr. Thom had telegraphed railroad officials that the only difference between the anti-strike clauses of the Cummins and conference bills was in the legal method of imposing penalties for violation.

HOW TO USE VICK'S Vapo-RUB TO PREVENT FLU

Flu Germs Are Breathed In. Inflamed Air Passages Make Ideal Breeding Grounds for These Germs.

KEEP AIR PASSAGES OPEN

Melt a Little Vick's Vapo-Rub in a Spoon Night and Morning and Inhale Vapors—Also Apply the Nostrils Several Times a Day Especially Just Before Being Exposed to Colds.

Flu This Year Is Milder

While we know very little more about the flu now than we did last year—the germ itself has never been positively identified—still most authorities agree that the flu germs are breathed in. If the system is in good shape and the membrane or lining of the air passages is in healthy condition—these germs are thrown off.

A good plan is to melt a little Vick's Vapo-Rub in a spoon night and morning, and inhale the vapors; also apply a little up the nostrils several times a day, especially just before being exposed to crowds.

Treat All Colds Promptly

Above all, keep free from colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and make them real breeding grounds for germs. Prompt use of Vick's Vapo-Rub aids in preventing colds. For head colds, sore throat or hoarseness, rub Vick's well over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. For deep chest colds, severe sore throat or bronchitis, hot wet towels should first be applied to the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then Vick's should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red—spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloth. Leave the clothing loose around the neck, so the vapors, released by the body heat, may be freely inhaled.

The vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the lungs and air passages. At the same time Vick's is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, thus aiding to relieve the congestion within.

Use of External Treatments for Colds Increasing

Vick's Vapo-Rub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine in salve form the standard, time-tested remedies—Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Thyme, etc.—so that the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

Vicks is particularly recommended for children's croup, since it is externally applied, and therefore can be used freely and often without the slightest harmful effects.

The best evidence of the value of Vick's is the steadily increasing number of people who have been converted to the use of this "outside" treatment.

Beginning with the customers of a small retail drug store, the use of Vick's has grown year by year—state by state—until now more than 17 million jars are used annually.

NOTE—Last winter Chicago druggists could not get Vick's—the manufacturers were unable to fill the demand from their home territory. Now, however, the Chicago wholesalers have ample stocks and local druggists can supply Vick's in all three sizes—3c, 6c, 12c.

a large sum. The league maintains an elaborate headquarters here in Washington, occupying nearly a whole floor of a large office building and employing hundreds of people. Throughout the country it is establishing branches and getting ready for the fight that is to come after the railroads have actually gone back to private ownership.

Sweet for the Bill.

Representative Sweet of Iowa, Republican member of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, who led the fight both in committee and on the floor of the house for a wage adjustment section satisfactory to labor, predicted approval of the bill. His statement was regarded as indicating that labor will be disappointed if it is counting on the support of all the house members it had at the time of the adoption of the Anderson-Sweet amendment to the Each bill.

"I believe a majority of the members of the house feel that the bill should be passed," said Representative Sweet. "I do not like some things about it, and I am afraid that the wage adjustment section will not be as workable as what we put into the house bill."

"But there are many things to be considered. We must have legislation at this time. Rather than fall to enact any legislation I shall support this bill. I believe that enough Democrats and Republicans will join forces to approve the conference report."

Texas Assaults Union.

Representatives Blanton, Texas, and Huddleston, Alabama, Democrats, clashed on the floor of the house, the latter denouncing organized labor, the latter coming to its defense.

ATTACK BONUSES AS ONE CAUSE OF EXCESSIVE RENT

Council Board to Hold an Open Hearing Today.

The bonus system, recognized as one of the causes of exorbitant rents, was under fire in the campaign to stop rent profiteering yesterday. Mayor Cressy, assigned to the special council rent committee, announced that several south side real estate agents were under investigation on charges of taking bonuses from prospective tenants while being paid by property owners.

There is no question in this sort of a case that Mayor Thompson can be a house and that it will stay there, said the council for the rent committee. "It is a pernicious practice, taking money from both sides, and is equivalent to grafting."

Open Hearing Today. Council Corporation Council Cressy is expected to address the special committee on the bonus evil at its second meeting in the city hall this afternoon at 2 p. m.

A number of several hundred tenants, many of whom are landlords and representatives of the Chicago real estate market, are expected to appear. An attempt will be made to arbitrate many of the cases according to Aid. Robert J. Dineen, chairman.

James Dineen stepped forward as the principal defender of the New York law in beating the rent profiteers. He announced that he would not accept a raise from $35.50 to $40 imposed by his landlord, Catharine Dineen, on his apartment at 2128 West Broadway.

Among other complaints were the following: ARTHUR A. SCHULZE, 1122 W. Madison street, raised from $30 to $47.50, the Hansworth, owner. L. E. HORTSMAN, 3319 Lincoln avenue, raised from $32.50 to $50. J. H. HORTSMAN, owner.

MISS J. K. HOOPER, 4649 Wood avenue, raised from $50 to $160. MISS ALLEN SCHWARTZ, 6646 Parnell avenue, raised from $45 to $75. ALLEN SCHWARTZ, owner.

Twenty requests for the fixing of a rental on apartment buildings are being the attention of the arbitration committee.

TENANTS BUY BUILDING. New York, Feb. 20.—Tenants in a city apartment house in upper Manhattan have formed a syndicate and bought the building, it was announced today, after they had learned a 20 per cent increase in rentals was contemplated. New tenants will have an opportunity of becoming shareholders in the syndicate. The building, with seven stores on the ground floor, returns a gross rental of about $36,000 monthly.

TRY AT SUICIDE REUNITES COUPLE. Frank Stalco and his wife quarreled and he went to the home of her mother, taking the 6 months old baby with her. Stalco called to see her, but was refused admittance. He stuck a knife in the door a note saying he was going to kill himself and went back to his flat at 129 West Erie street.

Miss Stalco found the note and hurried to Erie street. She could not find her husband by knocking at the door. She went to the rear and opened the window with a club, crawled into the house, and shut off the gas. Then she opened the door. Stalco was revived and arrested. Stalco was committed yesterday. The case was continued yesterday at March 21.

Divorce and wife have made up their differences and rented three rooms in the rear of 2006 West Huron street, where they will be "at home" today.

GIRL ARRESTED AS PICKET. Miss Rose Turner, 1456 South Fifty-sixth avenue, a hat maker formerly employed by Elmer Brown, 1240 South Wabash avenue, was arrested yesterday on a charge of picketing. Girls at the place have been on strike for the last two weeks.

Join the army and learn a trade—chasing bank bandits. William J. Immel, cashier of the Immel State bank, 3114 North California avenue, was a sergeant in the army, and derived not a little profit from the training. Last June when three men entered, flourishing revolvers, he chased them out with his automatic.

"Better put in a burglar alarm system," he said to his dad. It was done. Yesterday four men with revolvers tried to hold up the bank. Joseph T. Immel, vice president, Miss Elizabeth Immel, stenographer, and Miss Myrtle Rieck, bookkeeper, and five customers were present besides the army trained Immel.

He ducked under the counter, two bullets going overhead, and touched the button. The gong rang. The gang ran. The police came a little later. They revived the girls, who had fainted, and set out on the trail of the bandits.

NEWSPAPER ADS PASS MAGAZINES IN NATIONAL AREA

Newspapers have become supreme not only as the medium for local advertising but for national advertising as well. According to figures given yesterday by William A. Thomson, director of the bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, the papers led the magazines by $50,000,000 in 1919. He spoke before the newspaper advertising department of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

It has never been denied, he said, "that the newspaper is the lifeblood of the local merchant. Merchants of the United States spend $500,000,000 annually in newspaper advertising. But last year the volume of newspaper national advertising reached $150,000,000. The closest competitor of the newspapers, the magazines, carried $100,000,000 worth of advertising in 1919.

Eight or nine years ago the newspapers carried not more than $40,000,000 worth of national advertising a year. And then there was much wrangling over circulation. That has been eliminated by the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

There are 2,160 daily newspapers, printed in English, in the United States and 810 Sunday papers. The combined circulation exceeds 28,000,000, so it is evident that the newspaper is read everywhere, every day, by every one. It is the medium of quick response; it talks in the language of the town; it is a friend in the home, and is the cheapest of all mediums."

TEACHERS WIN NEW POINTS IN FIGHT FOR RAISE

Demands Granted Except in Two Particulars.

Yesterday's battle in the salary war between the school teachers and the board of education went to the teachers. The board capitulated on one point and promised further surrender, following the receipt of the Chicago Teachers' federation protests.

At a cost of $160,000 the finance committee of the board agreed to give automatic increases throughout the year when they fall due, instead of granting all of them only in January, nearly 2,000 of whom are from the elementary schools.

George B. Arnold, chairman of the finance committee, promised to grant the other demands of the teachers except in two particulars. He said there would be no increase of the maximum from $2,000 to $2,500, and that the policy of granting additional salary to teachers in special subjects would not be changed.

Board Grants Hearing. Miss Margaret Haley, leader in the Teachers' federation, sent the protests adopted at the Olympic theater meeting to Mr. Arnold. She also telephoned him, and was given an assurance that the teachers would be given a hearing before the board and the superintendent of schools.

The hearing cannot take place until the superintendent and his staff return from Cleveland, where they went next week for the meeting of the National Education association's department of superintendence.

"After we give the teachers a hearing," said Mr. Arnold, "we will reopen the salary question and correct the inequalities they complain of. But they can't get a higher salary schedule. The teachers seem to be way off on that question. There is not a teacher who won't get at least a raise of $40 a month, and that is above the 1919 salary, not the 1918 schedule.

All the different groups employed by the board want an increase and I don't know where the money will come from."

Engineers Seek Raise. The school engineers are asking for an increase of 30 per cent. That would involve an expense of several hundred thousand dollars. The civil service employees want an increase of $300 a year.

Miss Haley was still incensed over the proposal that teachers be permitted to turn in three university credits in one year—the solution of Supt. Mortenson for eliminating hardships in shortening the lower group period, during which five credits must be secured.

"For a teacher to get three credits in one year," Miss Haley said, "she must either suffer a breakdown in her health or take examinations which in the past have always been unfair to the teacher or be delayed a year in her promotion, which would mean a loss eventually of $500."

ALD. LYLE URGES COMMISSION RULE OF POLICE. Ald. John H. Lyle believes he has a plan to eliminate politics in the police department—a hope which has hovered on Chicago's horizon for many years.

Three commissioners, serving without pay, appointed by the mayor with the consent of the city council for six year terms—the first set to be appointed for two, four, and six year terms—and removable by the mayor only if two-thirds of the city council concur, is the gist of the alderman's plan.

Ald. Lyle will introduce a resolution at the next council meeting directing the police committee to consider the scheme along with the reorganization plans of Chief Garrity and Ald. Guernsey which are now before the council.

Under the plan the three commissioners would have full charge, control, supervision, and management of the department.

The actual working of the department would be superintended by three deputy commissioners.

CONGRESS HOPES TO LOP BILLION OFF EXPENSES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—[Special.]—That it now appears certain estimates for annual appropriations will be reduced by congress at least $1,000,000,000 was asserted today by Republican Leader Mondell in the house.

Mr. Mondell, in connection with the consideration of the legislative, executive, and judicial bill, said that with its completion the house will have passed seven of the thirteen regular annual appropriation measures. Estimates for the seven bills totaled $300,000,000; and as they now stand they total $277,000,000, a saving of $23,000,000 below the estimates, or a little less than 25 per cent.

Mr. Mondell warned that economy must be practiced and no considerable appropriations made outside the estimates.

'SOME BIG MEN MY FENCE; THEFTS MAY BE $60,000'

Earl W. Taylor Says "My Wife Didn't Know."

Earl W. Taylor, 19 years old, lonely, disheartened, yearning to start over again, sat in a Central police station cell last night and between expressions of love for Adelaide and protestations of her innocence he told his story.

"Now, let me set you right," he commenced. "The papers have ragged me and my girl. I don't mind for myself, but when you take a wallop at that girl it hurts—hurts more than you can understand."

"Last September I found that I needed money. My father and mother were sick and the funds were low. They needed help and I was the only one to give it to them. I was working for the Inland Electric company, 14 North Franklin street. I was selling goods for them."

"Little Hunks at First." "Well, we needed that dough, so I doped out a scheme to get it. It came in little hunks at first and finally I learned how to work the game successfully. Then more money came in—more than my family would need."

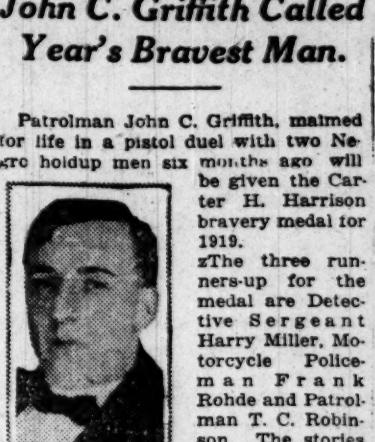

"So when I met Adelaide Rostle-Mann, daughter of a doctor who lives in La Grange, I started spending money on her. We were married in Milwaukee on Jan. 7 and from that time until three weeks ago we sure stepped fast along the primrose trail."

"Go over to the States restaurant and ask them about me. I spent all my money there."

"Wife Didn't Know." "Now, here are three points to go heavy on: First, my wife is innocent; second, I am guilty, and third, it is going to be a darned sight bigger when the case is finished than it is now. I believe the figure should be $60,000 instead of $25,000, as now quoted by the police. There are some mighty big guys in this—some respectable men who were my fences. They're going to jam."

CRIPPLED FOR LIFE, POLICEMAN AWARDED MEDAL

John C. Griffith Called Year's Bravest Man.

Patrolman John C. Griffith, maimed for life in a pistol duel with two Negro holdup men six months ago, will be given the Carter H. Harrison bravery medal for 1919.

The three runners-up for the medal are Detective Sergeant Harry Miller, Motorcycle Police man Frank Rohde and Patrolman T. C. Robinson. The stories of their brave deeds are:

John C. Griffith—Surprised three Negroes in the act of holding up Charlie Hue in his laundry at 609 Bowen avenue. Exchanged shot for shot with two of the Negroes after one had fled, killing one of them and receiving a wound in the back from the other. Griffith grappled with the remaining Negro and delayed his escape enough to allow another policeman, who had heard the shots, to capture him.

Harry Miller—In a revolver battle killed a maniac who was shooting at passersby from the second story of a building at 906 South Clinton street. Miller climbed up a fire escape and exchanged shots at point-blank range. Frank Rohde—Encountered gang of automobile thieves at West-Lake street and North Kedzie avenue at 1:15 a. m. Aug. 22. Promoter Sawhill Sued in Peoria for $1,200. Peoria, Ill., Feb. 20.—James E. Sawhill, a promoter, was named as defendant yesterday in a civil suit filed in the circuit court to recover $1,200 by the William R. Compton company of St. Louis. It is alleged a note for $974.63 held by the company was due Jan. 6 and that Sawhill failed to make payment.

WANTS OF FRAUD IN 3 WARDS AS ELECTION NEARS

Take Precautions in 18th,
21st, and 30th.

Allegation of fraud in at least three wards developed from charges made by the city clerk, who will be made at Tuesday's election to forestall election frauds.

The talk of possible illegal voting because of the election laws all over the city.

James F. Burns, Republican ward committeeman in the Twenty-first ward, where Ald. Earl Walker is up for reelection, issued a formal statement in behalf of the Twenty-first ward regular organization that said:

"A special committee has been appointed for the investigation and prosecution of illegal registration and voting in the Twenty-first ward and doubtless precincts and polling places will be examined by special workers who will report every violation and every such report will then be handed to the proper authorities for immediate prosecution."

STICKS TO JOB 50 YEARS; NOW HE IS RAIL TREASURER

Byron Cassell was singularly handicapped when he made his debut in the world of business.

He was innocent of all knowledge concerning the eight hour day, the right of collective bargaining, the strike, and he had never met a male factor of great wealth or a vested interest.

All young Cassell knew was that he had a job and that he intended to stick to it, make himself invaluable to his employer, and climb to the top.

That was fifty years ago, Feb. 20, 1870. Cassell was just 15. His job consisted in tapping a telegraph key for the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville Railroad company, the Monon route.

Last night there was a banquet at the Union League club, attended by twenty-five of the leading members of the Society of American Railroad Financial Officers. The guest was the newly reflected treasurer and assistant secretary of the Monon—Byron Cassell, now 65 years old.

From telegraph operator he has advanced successfully from clerk, chief clerk, assistant cashier, chief cashier, to his present position.

ORDER DRAFT OF LAW FOR CITY OWNED CAR LINE

Traction Board Asks
Legislative Aid.

Spurred on by the loss of the city's 5 cent street car fare fight in the state Supreme court, Mayor Thompson's traction commission took its initial step yesterday toward municipal ownership and operation of the traction lines.

On motion of Commissioner Charles R. Francis, the board voted to appeal through the city council "without delay" to the state legislature "for legislation authorizing the people to create a transportation district or new municipal corporation of street railway systems."

The board also directed its legal staff to prepare the enabling legislation immediately for presentation to the city council.

"We will not recommend any specific transportation system," Chairman Eitelson said at the close of the meeting. "We are merely investigating subways, monorails, and other suggestions, so that we may know what legislation is necessary."

The city council finance committee voted to have its chairman confer with Chairman Eitelson before approving the commission contract with George W. Jackson for subway plans and estimates.

POLITICAL NOTES

Campaign work among the farmers for Gov. Lowden for president will be in full swing next week in Missouri, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Kentucky, New York, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Utah, and Colorado, according to the announcement yesterday of Harvey J. Sconce, in general charge of the agricultural division of the Lowden organization.

H. O. Weaver of Wapello has been made manager for Iowa; W. S. Hill of Mitchell for South Dakota; Homer J. Tice of Greenville, for Illinois; William Bosson of Indianapolis, for Indiana; John Fields of Oklahoma City, for Oklahoma; W. R. Dixon of Wilson, for North Carolina, and Senator J. M. Hackney of St. Paul, for Minnesota.

A subpoena duces tecum was issued yesterday by Master in Chancery James V. O'Donnell at the request of Ald. William R. O'Toole of the Thirtieth ward, directing the Greenbaum Sons Bank and Trust company to produce all records showing the accounts of the Municipal Voters' league in its office Monday morning. At that time hearing of Ald. O'Toole's $100,000 suit against the league and its officers, charging libel in comment upon his record in the city council, will begin.

Senator Medill McCormick arrived in Chicago yesterday, having spoken Thursday before the Illinois Farmers' Institute at Carbondale. He speaks Monday at Quincy, and he and Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman are to speak before the Illinois constitutional convention at Springfield Wednesday.

Wood headquarters issued a formal statement from Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt declaring for Wood for president, that said: "It gives me great pleasure to endorse the candidacy of Gen. Wood. He is a man of fearless disposition and strikes out boldly for what he considers right. He is a man of proven experience as an administrator. He has demonstrated this ability in Cuba and in the Philippines. He has thought out on liberal and constructive lines the great economic problems we will meet in this country in the coming decade. Under him I feel confident that the country will work forward to a very increasing influence and stability."

Ald. A. O. Anderson has been endorsed for reelection in the Thirtieth ward by many representative Republicans and Democrats, including former judges Charles S. Cutting, Fred D. Brett, John E. Northrup, Clayton E. Crafts, Wiley W. Mills, Judge Irwin R. Hazen, Democratic Ward Committeeman Timothy J. Crowe, Ninian Welch, John J. Sonsteyn, Raymond G. Kimball, and Col. Joseph H. Barnett.

Friends of Marshall V. Kearney have directed attention to the fact that he is the only Republican running for alderman in the Twenty-fourth ward, and that he has a citation for bravery as a buck private overseas.

Newton Jenkins, in a final appeal to Twenty-seventh ward voters, emphasizes the assertion that he is running as a real nonpartisan and is not tied in with any of the partisan or factional organizations in the ward.

KERR FORSAKES HOLDOUT RANKS; SIGNS CONTRACT

Faber in Town for a Talk with Comiskey.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.
Little Dick Kerr, proclaimed as a White Sox holdout a few days ago, has signed a contract with Comiskey's men and will be back on the job with his left handed curves. The news came by telegram last night, supposedly from Paris, Tex., where he has been hibernating. Secretary Grabner of the Sox went to Texas a week ago and it is supposed he located Kerr and signed him.

Kerr was a great help to the Sox during the last half of the season, when he took a regular turn on the slab, but it was in the world's series that he became a star. He pitched two games and won both of them, holding the Reds to three hits and no runs in his first contest. Last year was his first season in fast company, but if he goes along at the same pace he showed in the big series he should have many seasons with the big fellows.

Faber Here to See Commy.

About the time the news regarding Kerr arrived "Red" Faber, star hurler of the Sox in 1917, reached Chicago and will call upon Boss Comiskey this morning regarding his contract for the coming year. Faber, after a year in the navy, had little luck in baseball last season. He was underweight and apparently weak, but has regained his old time weight, being twelve or fifteen pounds heavier than at any time during the 1919 season.

His now looks like the Faber of 1917 and if he is the same fellow, the Sox will have a pitching staff, providing "Red" comes to terms all right. He expressed no dissatisfaction over the contract offered him, but did remark that he might quit baseball for good. Also he remarked that it might be a good thing for him to try to pitch for some other club.

Little Chance for Trade.

It is hardly likely Comiskey would consent to trading him, as the Sox need pitching help above all things, and if Faber has "come back" he would be the very cog needed to make a powerful machine out of the team. The fact that he has regained his normal weight indicates he may also have regained his old time speed.

"Red" has spent the winter at his old home, Cascade, Ia., which has been nearly buried in snow since before Christmas. Having nothing else to do, "Red" and a couple of other fellows of Cascade who own cars and like to drive into Dubuque to see a movie, attempted to shovel a path on the highway. It's only twenty-five miles from Cascade to Dubuque. The path was completed after some days of strenuous bucking and shoveling, but that very night another storm came and filled it up.

Boilermaker Five Hands Iowa 40 to 26 Beating

Iowa City, Ia., Feb. 20.—[Special.]—Purdue slaughtered Iowa, 40 to 26, to night in a Big Ten game. The Hawk eyes held the Boilermakers nearly even, 17 to 13, in the first half, but Purdue ran away from the Iowans in round two. The offensive play of Tilson and Church in that period was spectacular. Shimek starred for Iowa with five baskets and four free throws.

Athletes representing the Illinois A. C. went into the lead in the first night's events of the twenty-sixth annual indoor track and field games of the First Regiment A. C. held last night at the Michigan avenue armory with twenty-three points. The C. A. A. is second with fifteen points and unattached athletes third with seven.

Five events were completed and Tom Hoskins of the C. A. A. carried off individual honors with eight points. He won first place in the standing hop, step, and jump and was second in the standing broad jump. In addition he qualified for the second round of semifinals in the forty yard handicap dash.

Jolo Ray of the Illinois A. C. romped home an easy winner of the two mile scratch run in the slow time of 9:56.35. Heats in the 40 yard handicap dash, 40 yard high and low hurdles, scratch, were run off. It took nine preliminary and five semi-final heats to reduce the field in the open dash. SHOTS ON THE LINKS VS. JOE DAVIS

EDDIE LOOS, Ravisloo professional, will leave Wednesday for Belleair, Fla., to take part in several tournaments. His place at the Copper & Capper indoor school will be taken by Guy Martin, formerly assistant to Jim Barnes at Tacoma, Wash. Martin, who is a Tacoma boy, was rejected for the United States aviation service, but joined the Canadian air forces and made a fine record. He was recently discharged from service and will locate here temporarily.

Doc Treacy, professional at the Chicago Athletic association, is taking a vacation in the south. His place at the Chicago Athletic association will be taken by E. U. Dean, late of the marine corps, who will be assistant to Jack Croft at Belmont this summer.

According to a cable received in New York it is asserted that Abe Mitchell, George Duncan, Harry Vardon, and Ted Ray will visit us this summer, leaving soon after the British open championship at Deal. Vardon was here twenty years ago and in 1913 came with Ted Ray. Duncan was here in 1913, but did not play in the United States open championship. The British open will be held in June, so that the United States event will not be carried before July.

MARSHALL SPLITS AT H. P.

Marshall and Hyde Park split a pair of practice games at Hyde Park, the home heavyweights winning 20 to 5, and the Marshall lightweights winning 10 to 8. Marshall did the bulk of the scoring for Marshall lights, making three baskets and two free throws. Hyde Park heavyweights, caging five ringers.

MISS ROSENTHAL VS. MRS. FEITNER IN FLORIDA FINAL

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 20.—[Special.]—Mrs. Quentin Feitner, South Shore, defeated Mrs. Ernest Byfield, Ravisloo, in the semi-finals for the Florida golf title this afternoon, and tomorrow will meet Miss Elaine Rosenthal, Ravisloo, for the championship. Mrs. Feitner started poorly, losing the first three holes, each in one over bogey, and was 3 down at the turn. She squared the match on the thirteenth and won the fourteenth, sixteenth, and seventeenth holes.

Mrs. Feitner sank a putt from off the green on the tenth, and sank twelve foot putts on the fifteenth and seventeenth, the latter after Mrs. Byfield had holed out from near the edge.

M'GOWAN WINS INTERNATIONAL SKATING TITLE

Rose Johnson Champion of Girl Stars.

Lake Placid, N. Y., Feb. 20.—Victory in the three mile senior final this afternoon, won for Everett McGowan, St. Paul, the international amateur ice championship. The western youth finished with 120 points. Joe Moore, wearing Lake Placid colors, was his nearest rival with 100. Edmund Horton of Saranac Lake was third with 70. Charles Jewtraw of Lake Placid finished with 60 points.

In the three mile race which decided the title Moore followed McGowan across the line. Jewtraw was third. Miss Rose Johnson, Chicago, won the first women's international skating title. She scored 110 points. Emeraldita Dunlap, also of Chicago, was her closest opponent with 70 points, and the other feminine entrants were far in the rear. Miss Johnson clinched the title by winning the half mile for women today.

Stan O'Neil of Huron Race. Sportsmanship displayed by Joe Moore avoided a possible mixup in points at the end when he suggested, after the finish of the three mile event in which McGowan was the victor, that neither compete in the hurdle race, declaring that "you are not a hurdler; neither am I; why decide the title on a possible fluke?" The suggestion was accepted by McGowan. Victory for Joe Moore over McGowan in the hurdle race would have given the Lake Placid entrant the title.

The standing by points in the men's senior events follows:
Everett McGowan, St. Paul, 120; Joe Moore, Lake Placid, 100; Edmund Horton, Saranac Lake, 70; Charles Jewtraw, Lake Placid, 60; Roy McWhorter, Chicago, 50; Goodman, Winnipeg, and George Pickering, Verona Lake, N. J., 20 each; Robert Hearn, New York, 10.

Standing by points in the women's events were:
Rose Johnson, Chicago, 110; Emeraldita Dunlap, Chicago, 70; Gladys Robinson, Toronto, 30; Elsie Muller, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, Lillian Herman, St. Paul and Cecilia Caray, Cleveland, 10 each.

RURAL DAVID AT CON CON PERILS CHICAGO GOLIATH

Mascoutah Man Again
Hits Consolidation.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20.—[Special.]—The delegate from Mascoutah "has placed more hurdles in the way of consolidating the local governments of Cook county than the first reading of his proposal to the constitutional convention disclosed."

It provides, in addition to the obstacles recited yesterday, that "there shall be no territory stricken from any county unless a majority of the voters living in such territory shall petition for such division."

To have a unification of local governments in Chicago it has been deemed necessary to cast aside that part of Cook county which did not desire to become a part of the consolidated government, but "the delegate from Mascoutah" says: "No, that cannot be done unless the residents outside of the consolidated government file a plea with a majority petition."

Still Another Obstacle.
But that is not all. Mr. Herbert F. Lull, "the delegate from Mascoutah," proposes to the constitution makers this, also:

"But that portion [of a county] so stricken off and added to another county, or formed, in whole or in part, into a new county, shall be held for and obliged to pay its proportion of the indebtedness of the county from which it has been taken."

That works out in this way: Cook county on Dec. 31 last had $9,157,000 in bonds outstanding and $6,000,000 authorized, which have not been issued.

$318,215 of County Debt.
If the consolidated government were to include the territory now within the sanitary district, the portion of the county outside would pay about $318,215 of this $16,157,000 county indebtedness.

But the county is constructing $5,000,000 worth of good roads. The consolidated government's part of that cost is $4,895,000.
Suppose the city should turn over the roads to the discarded part of the county and be willing to pay also the county's $105,000 on the courthouse, there could still be no consolidation of the local governments, if the proposal of "the delegate from Mascoutah" is adopted by the convention.

FARMERS FIGHT I. & R.
Carbondale, Ill., Feb. 20.—[Special.]—At the closing session of the Illinois Farmers' Institute resolutions were adopted opposing the principle of the initiative and referendum as set forth in proposals 132 and 134 now before the constitutional convention. The creation of a system of state police to protect rural communities was advocated.

The institute went on record as favoring increased production and condemning all movements "to shorten the hours of labor and otherwise curtail production."

MELODRAMATIC

Wife of Film Producer Seizes
Cellar Frowler at Point of Bottle.

MRS. GEORGE K. SPOOR.
(Moffett Photo.)

MRS. SPOOR NABS MAN IN CELLAR AT POINT OF BOTTLE

Refreshment for Friends
Cows Intruder.

In designing a program of entertainment for a bridge party, what better idea than to repeat that as a melodramatic prelude to the afternoon's amenities, a psychic sauce for the cosmic comfits of Ibsen, Ibsen, Shaw, and Sudermann, a literary overture—well, what better idea than to repeat there is nothing so delectable as a shot—

Of pineapple.

Wherefore, it having become the turn yesterday of Mrs. George K. Spoor, wife of the president of the Essanay Film company, to preside as hostess in her home at 908 Argyle street, and the hour approaching for the guests to arrive, Mrs. Spoor betook herself to the cellar of her apartment and prepared to essay the combination of the vault in which the bottle of pineapple was secured.

Finds Vault Open.

Exclamation point! The combination had already been essayed. The vault door was open. But, peering through the Stygian gloom, Mrs. Spoor's anxious eye discerned the graceful outlines of her desideratum. Hastily seizing the bottle of pineapple by the neck, she was preparing to depart when, against the wall of the vault, she saw a man.

"Help! What are you doing here?" she cried, covering him with the bottle of pineapple. "Hands up!"

"Don't shoot, madam; I won't hurt you," he replied. "I—"

"Get out of here."

A Place of Refuge.

"I will. It was like this: I was having a drink—wait a minute—not here. I was in a saloon. I was just about to have this drink, twenty years old, when two revenue officers walked in. They ran for me. I ducked out the saloon. They chased me. This was the first place I saw and I turned in."

By this time Mrs. Spoor had summoned her chauffeur, Gustave Saxon, who stood guard over the prisoner until the police arrived. He told them he was Harry Fisher, a painter, of 1910 North Dearborn street, and that he would say nothing.

WOMEN DEMAND PROSECUTION OF CHAMBLISS

The Chicago Woman's club and ninety-three other persons, in letters and petitions to the state's attorney's office yesterday, demanded the rigid prosecution of Dorsey Chambliss, Negro policeman, and the infliction of the maximum penalty of the law if he is found guilty of the charges leveled against him by 16-year old Bertha Wiebeck on her deathbed.

Two petitions were received from Miss Edna Rolleson of 2226 Clifton Park avenue, who said they had been circulated in churches near her home. One bore forty-two signatures, the other fifty-one. "You will no doubt be glad," Miss Rolleson wrote, "to have these evidences of the citizens' support brought to your attention."

A communication from Mrs. Edith H. Winslow, president of the Woman's club, said: "The 1,200 members endorse the efforts made to bring Dorsey Chambliss to justice."

The policeman, whom the dying girl accused of enticing her into a house of ill fame, will appear before Judge Stekl in the Municipal court today, but State's Attorney James T. McShane, in charge of the prosecution, expected the case to be continued.

"There appears to be ample evidence," he asserted, "to send Chambliss to the penitentiary. Emma Ross, in whose house at 3525 South State street the policeman kept the white girl, will be involved. And another defendant will probably be James Murphy of 3158 South Wabash avenue, whom he took to visit Bertha."

The prosecution, Mr. McShane added, would be rendered difficult by Bertha's death.

BORNE MEDICINE KILLS MAN.

The coroner's office will investigate the death last night of Henry Zora, 55 years old, 1920 South Main street, a stableman, who died supposedly after swallowing some horse medicine.

THAT GUILTIEST FEELING

CHICAGO NEWS IN BRIEF

Philip Weiss, tailor, 911 East Forty-third street, says his wife and $1,500 have disappeared.

Most of the $50,000 estate of Judge Henry Guerin, drowned last September, is left to his widow.

The home of Alpheus Stewart, 800 Sheridan road, Evanston, was robbed of $1,000 in silverware.

The Alumni News-Bulletin of Lake Forest college is planning a memorial for Dr. John J. Halley.

William Gardiner was held to the grand jury on $25,000 bond, charged with the murder of Dr. Robert S. Bentley.

"Get yourself counted." That's the request of John J. Gaynor, census chief, who wants 100 per cent enrollment.

Ten wet wash laundries sued City Sealer Eller for $100,000, the suits based on alleged statements regarding price boosts.

Russell J. Poole got back from three weeks' struggle with pneumonia to learn the finance committee had abolished his job as city food director.

Emma and Aleck, slang for Goldman and Berkman, were two of the quietest passengers on the soviet ark Buford, said Frank Berkshire, revenue officer in charge of the ship, who passed through Chicago on his way to Texas.

"Suicide while temporarily insane" was the verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest over the body of Ray Newcombe, who killed himself in the home of Mrs. Frances Maitland, 4409 F. S. Shapiro, 205 North Kedzie avenue.

The boy is Richard Putz of 227 West Sixty-first street, whose father, Anton, is an inmate of a sanitarium at Fox Lake and whose mother, Mrs. Barbara Putz, lives at 4415 North Keeler avenue.

The entry records the fact that the boy and his parents were examined by Dr. William Hickson of the laboratory Sept. 11, 1914, at which time they lived at 4375 West Twenty-sixth street.

The entry shows the boy was classed as a high grade moron and his father as a victim of dementia praecox. The boy was left at liberty. Last Tuesday he shot Burchan because the latter refused a dime for a pair of socks.

Recapture Restores
Their Peace of Mind.

Alice Clement Faubel, veteran policeman, is going on the road to warn girls from small towns to avoid the snares and pitfalls of the wicked city. Mrs. Faubel will leave the police department March 1 to become the new Virginia Brooks.

Ald. McCormick wants the following letter, received by the finance committee from the Police Ambulance Surgeons' association, framed: "We do want and deserve an increase, but not at the expense of those now employed as police-ambulance surgeons."

Four buildings were closed by Dr. Robertson until they got in smokeless coal, which they did in a hurry. They were the O-Cedar, 1419 Carroll avenue; the C. C. Helsen, 1427 Carroll avenue; the Woman's World Magazine, 167 South Clinton street, and S. Franklin & Co.

Evanston's wonder janitor, who works for $15 a month and has not yet got the five month back pay due him from Stow house, a settlement, is still happy. The school board has passed the appropriation and it'll get around to him in time, George Van Inwegen, the said janitor, thinks.

Judge Landis ordered Byrnes & Novotny, lawyers, to turn over to the United States district clerk $3,350 advanced them by Anna Holiga and James Storitz, saloonkeeper at 2414 Washburne avenue. She thought the money was for bail, but says it developed $1,350 was for fees. Storitz was arrested for larceny. The court will hold the money pending disposition of the case.

The guards appeared about that time and took Ruprecht in charge. But Ruprecht shook off their restraint and displayed too much feistiness of foot for his pursuers.

Telephone messages warned his two intended victims to provide themselves with weapons.

Mr. Heth prepared, and so did Mr. Stone, but Ruprecht returned to his wife's abode last evening to find another and stronger escort waiting. He was conducted back home.

Several years ago the assistant prosecutor obtained a divorce for Mrs. Ruprecht from James Klewer. Later both Mr. Stone and Mr. Heth attempted to assist Ruprecht in difficulties with the income tax collector, whereupon Ruprecht's mind collapsed, he threatened to kill both of them, and was committed to the asylum.

Thief Who Trained Mail Man Is Trained, Caught

James D. O'Brien, 181 Bowen avenue, was arrested yesterday charged with rifling the mail boxes of private homes on the south side, and stealing letters, which he thought might contain money. Detectives Bolun, Bahr and Burch, and Post Office Inspector Fahey, who arrested him, said he watched the mail man and followed him. A merchant who cashed a money order identified him. The money order was one of five stolen from the mails.

DIVORCEE MISER AND HERMIT: 21 YEARS OF MISERY

Fire Bares Odd Tragedy of Love and Life.

Back in 1899, before marital differences wrecked the home of Dr. Chauncey Shorman, Mary, his wife, was looked upon as a beauty. Their son, George, aged 7, was the father's idol. They were happy.

Then the divorce came. No one knew why. Dr. Shorman went his way and Mary and George went to live at 3149 Fulton street. That was twenty-one years ago.

Since that time they apparently had been comfortable, although Mrs. Shorman was seldom seen. George worked at the Chicago and Northwestern freight yards as a trucker. The landlord, Samuel Allen, said he'd never seen Mrs. Shorman.

Gossipers thought—and heard—that the intermittent illness of both had turned them against the brighter side of life.

Fire Bares Strange Hoard.

Not until last night, when Fireman Clarence Olsen, of truck company 48, carried Mary, now past 50, wrinkled and gray, out of her burning flat did neighbors know the battle they had fought or the conditions under which they had been living.

She was hurried to the Robert Burns hospital, where physicians said her recovery is doubtful because of her burns. She murmured that "her money must be saved."

Firemen in the kitchen found a mass of partly charred papers. They were packed four feet high to within two feet of the stove. One paper showed a date of Jan. 28, 1904. Others bore dates of from three to fourteen years ago.

The parlor also was piled high with papers, rubbish of all materials—old iron, broken bottles, decayed food, old shoes, clothing, paintings, and manuscripts which could not be deciphered.

Worth Thousands of Dollars.

In another room barrels impeded passage. In one corner a collection of ancient paving blocks reposed.

A search in the cupboard revealed a string of twenty-one cloth bags tied to the walls. In them were found crumbs of dry bread. Detectives said they had been hanging there for at least ten years.

While rummaging through the mountain of papers Detective Sergeant John Sloop encountered a satchel loaded with watches, bracelets, rings, gold coins, and antiques of diverse descriptions. There were legal documents, leases, receipts for bonds and stocks and letters. Detective Sloop said the collection probably would carry a valuation of several thousands of dollars.

A packet containing over $1,000 in bills also was unearthed.

George talked incoherently. He stated that his mother's clothing probably had become ignited while she was preparing dinner for him on the 28th anniversary of his birth.

He said he had never seen his father, that he was supposed to be a prominent physician along the north shore of Lake Michigan. He declared that his father had married again and that he was sending $50 monthly to her.

Mystery to Him, Says Shorman.

Dr. Shorman, who has married again is now residing at 1141 North Shore avenue, Rogers Park. He said: "The Fulton street affair was a peculiarly mysterious one to me for several years. I have been unable to fathom it. Even since we were divorced I have sent my first wife money. If she needs help now I will be glad to do what I can."

He is now operating laboratories at 173 La Salle street.

RESCUE OF SIX FROM FIRE LEADS TO ARSON CHARGE

Neighbors were thrilled yesterday when, soon after smoke and flames began issuing from the two-story frame dwelling at 1840 Park avenue, the occupants began the work of rescue. First two small children were lowered from a second floor window by means of a blanket attached to a rope. The tackle was hauled back up for the children's mother, Mrs. May Ziegler, was let down. Next came Charles A. Graham, a roomer, and last Edward Farrington.

About this time the firemen began arriving. Battalion Marshal Thomas Reynolds observed that Mrs. Ziegler was fully dressed. It was 3 o'clock in the morning. He became suspicious and notified Fire Attorney McCabe, whose investigation disclosed that Farrington, who had leased the place, Mrs. Ziegler being his sister, had insured his furniture for $5,000. Much of it had not been paid for, the fire attorney said.

He ordered Farrington held and said a charge of arson would be filed against him today. Mrs. Ziegler has disappeared. The children have been committed to the juvenile home.

Story of Russian
Folklore Hero Told
Well by Orchestra

BY W. L. HUBBARD.

Knowing ones may write and talk a great deal about "absolute music" and the inferiority of the so-called "program music," declaring the latter poor and artistically weaker than the former. But the big fact remains that the vast majority of music lovers are reached more easily by music that "tells a story," and are more enthusiastic over such, than they are by music that is "pure," and is based largely on skillful handling of mere tonal phrases and the observing of established formalisms.

Down at bottom, a good 99 per cent of us are children, and children are ever interested and attracted by a picture. Tell a child a story or show him a picture about a piece of music and instantly you have his attention.

Mr. Stock and all the leaders of the concert give for little folks in the children concert series offered throughout the country, have discovered this vast fact, and just in as far as they tell a good story before commencing their music, just in as far as they delight their auditors.

Yesterday Mr. Stock made the central number on the Chicago Orchestra program a symphony which is a true story, a piece of composition. It was the B minor Symphony of the Russian composer Glinka. It bears the subtitle "Ilya Mouromets," the name of one of Russia's mythical heroes of the long, long ago, who figures large in the folklore of the nation. The symphony is a picturing of events in the life of this hero.

The first movement is the call that came to him when still a peasant's son and when he had remained motionless and seated for thirty years, but which resulted in his starting forth, his meeting with the noble hero, Evstignegor, and his taking on the strength possessed by that hero when he died.

The second movement is the capturing of a brigand by Ilya. The third is the taking of this captive to the court of Prince Vladimir and the killing of him there, and the last describes mighty feats of the hero and his death.

The symphony is a rare one and the orchestra played it superbly under Mr. Stock's inspiring direction. The overture to Glinka's "Russia and Ludmila" and Brahms' master Symphony—the No. 3 in F—completed the program.

MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY
GIVEN LIBRARY AND BOOKS WORTH MILLION

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 20.—[Special.]—William Clements of Bay City, one of the members of the board of regents of the University of Michigan, announced the gift today to the university of his Eighteenth Century Americana, a collection of first edition books worth over a half million dollars. Regent Clements will also erect a library for the books similar to the building housing the John Carter Brown library at Brown university. The gift is considered the most magnificent the university has ever had. Its total cost will come close to $1,000,000. The books are a rare collection of first editions on the subject of American colonial and revolutionary history and said to be the finest collection west of the Allegheny mountains.

Prof. Isaac Demmon, for fifty-two years teacher and since 1878 a professor in the university, handed in his resignation today. He was made honorary member of the Michigan Shakespearean society. He is one of the greatest authorities in this country on Shakespeare, and he was considered an exceptional authority on rare and valuable books. To his efforts is due the fact that Michigan university has one of the best working Shakespearean libraries in the world.

Chicago Moose Lodge
Planning to Build
Big Clubhouse Here

A Chicago Moose lodge is being organized and a movement is under way to build a Moose clubhouse that will rank with those in Pittsburgh, Cleveland, and other cities, where Moose clubs are on a plane with the leading social and athletic associations.

"Applications for membership are pouring in rapidly," said Director General James J. Davis at Moose headquarters in the Hotel Morrison. "The record of Mooseheart and its wonderful work for orphaned children of members has great influence."

Gov. Lowden, Mayor Thompson, Thomas E. Wilson, and Senator McCormick are all life members. So is Roger Sullivan, Charles H. Wacker, E. J. Buffington, Julius Kahn, William E. Mason, E. W. Houser, and other prominent men.

Rodney H. Brandon, supreme secretary of the Loyd Order of Moose, is chairman of the education committee of the Illinois constitutional convention.

Vocational Work
for Girls Slighted

Mrs. Anna L. Burdick of the federal board for vocational education said yesterday at the vocational education convention at the Hotel La Salle that girls are being slighted in plans for extension of the work.

"It's not enough," she said, "to convince people vocational education is proper for boys. But when it comes to teaching girls the same thing, the public won't stand for it."

"The girls need the training just as much as the boys. Vocational education for girls has become a social problem. Some people say we are forcing the boys and girls to attend these schools. They are being forced out instead."

The convention will close today.

WAR ON H. C. L. BRINGS FALL IN PRICES OF GRAIN

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Weakness and lower prices, following the war on H. C. L., have brought a fall in prices of grain. The two-day holiday was a factor in the grain market yesterday as large accumulations of supplies are expected Tuesday owing to the car situation in western Iowa and other parts of the grain belt. Every bearish consideration was strongly emphasized yesterday, and the impression prevailed that the grain corporation has started to liquidate its large holdings of wheat and flour which was bought for the foreign trade and cannot be exported owing to the low rates of exchange.

There are only ninety days left for the grain corporation to operate as a buyer, and evidence is cropping out that it is trying to get out as early as possible. This is being done by the trade that lower prices are on the way, and aside from the light stocks and short a bearish influence on the trade and in which good profits existed being ineffective. At the last most traders were excessively bearish.

Argentine shipments aggregated 12,823,000 bu of all grains for the week. The continued heavy shipments from that country exert a bearish influence on the trade and were the basis for fear selling in the last hour.

Permit system of moving grains through the various primary markets has been cancelled by the railroad administration. The 70 per cent wheat preference under the Grain Corporation will be 30 per cent of the grain remains, despite rumors of its removal, railroad administration officials said.

A statement credited to Julius H. Barnes, wired from New York, had considerably influenced the market yesterday. The bulk of the information was apparently given out to work of a seaboard trader. It served to call the attention of the trade to the fact that there will be the largest carry-over of wheat into the new year for many seasons as stocks in all mills and elevators aggregated 202,000,000 bu on Feb. 6, although 400,000,000 bu under last year's, are now in the hands of domestic requirements. The report that Barnes had made a statement grew out of an advertisement advising the purchase of Grain Corporation flour.

LONGS UNLOADED.

While cash houses were moderate buyers of early and made a profit of 10c to 15c over the previous day's finish, the close was weak, due to selling by longs, and final trades were about at the bottom, after a range of 24c to 25c. May losing 1/2c on the July. Consignments of oats were somewhat larger. Eastern demand slow, with further reports of re-selling by exporters. Premiums on No. 3 white in the sample market advanced 1/2c to 56c to 57c over May.

Buying by cash houses and an advance of 1/2c in seaboard bids to a basis of 12c over May, track Baltimore, lifted futures 2 1/2c, but the close was weak and 4 1/2c to 5c over the top. Local traders were the best sellers. The seaboard sold 600,000 bu for export Thursday, but claimed nothing doing under May. No. 2 on track brought 2c under May, with sales at $1.09 1/2c. Receipts, 6 cars.

Barley sold readily, with choice quality at 25c to 26c advance, while feed grades were unchanged. Spot sales were at $1.22 1/2c. Receipts 8 cars.

PROVISIONS WEAKENED.

Provision values advanced early on higher hogs and corn, only to react later and close at around the inside, with fair net losses. Trading on the whole was not large, with a little buying on early by local traders. Shipping business was light. Carriers bought cash lead to come from the country at $1.00 to $1.01, May, and sold the latter. Cash trade in green hams and cured meats is fair. Prices follow:

TO ISSUE UNION
STATION BONDS
FOR $10 000 000

The Chicago Union Station company, which is building Chicago's $20,000,000 new west side railroad terminal, is planning a rush job of financing.

The company, all of whose stock is owned in equal proportion by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, the Pennsylvania, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad companies, is negotiating with a syndicate of Chicago and New York bankers for the flotation of an issue of $10,000,000 bonds.

It is understood the company at present is in need of capital for new construction, and that the syndicate has decided to take advantage of what is known as the "bull market" in railroad credit as the result of new legislation.

To Anticipate Legislation.

It also is suggested that its present financing will anticipate supervision by the interstate commerce commission. If the act passed by Congress on March 1, it is provided that the commerce commission shall have power to

The syndicate of bankers which is planning to handle the flotation is composed of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank of Chicago and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the First National bank, the National City bank, and Lee, Higginson & Co., all of New York. This is the same syndicate which handled the flotation of the Chicago and North Western securities issued. But this power does not become operative until four months after the act becomes law. So it is expected there will be a large amount of railroad financing in the interim. The offering of the Chicago company's bonds probably will not be announced until after March 1.

Terms Not Decided.

Neither the price at which the present bond issue will be offered nor the terms of the maturity have been decided. The Chicago Union Station company has a charter which expires on July 3, 1983. This accounts for the rather unusual makeup of the proceeds, including $30,000,000 of bonds which fall due in 1963, having been dated Jan. 1, 1916, and offered at par and interest the following month. These bonds bear 4½ per cent. Thus the charter expiration placed a premium on the new bonds, and it is believed the property will be of considerably shorter maturity.
